HIGH END VIDEO. BUILT DIFFERENT.

Finding the right video partner isn't easy.

Large production companies offer quality, but come with high costs, layers of process, and your budget doesn't always go towards what matters.

Freelancers are more accessible, but can be inconsistent, lack experience and just don't understand what you need.

Bear Island Video was built on a better model. Combining senior-level experience with a scalable, efficient approach, so more of your budget goes into the work, not the overheads.

BUILT ON 10 YEARS EXPERIENCE.

Most video out there looks fine but doesn't get results, because the people making it don't understand the commercial problem it needs to solve.

That's what our founder, Simon Fjulsrud, spent over a decade doing for a leading London video production company, working for brands big and small, across a wide range of industries and sectors.

Today that same experience, quality and attention to detail sits at the core of Bear Island.

WHY CHOOSE BEAR ISLAND VIDEO?

NO WASTED BUDGET

Our efficient and optimised model, means that more of your investment goes into what's on the screen and not into the massive overheads.

SCALABLE PRODUCTION

Whether it's a solo shoot or a larger crewed production, Bear Island scales around your needs. We ensure you get the right experts and the right approach for your project.

CREATIVITY THAT CONVERTS

We make more than just good-looking video. Every project is shaped around what you're trying to achieve. Ensuring the video works hard for your business.
